PREFACE

in the belief that Love of family is a source of great pleasure and that a reasonable pride in ancestry helps to that end, this short history of our family has been written for the pleasure and information of the sons and daughters of william Henry and Sannah Kinnison and their sons and daughters and their familles.

This history shows that our annestors traveled from one country to the other in search of religious freedom, political peace and reasonable fortune. It is hoped that each one will hand this down from eneration to generation, each adding his activities that will be a credit to those gone on before.

The information here-in is correct to the best known material found by the writer. Mistakes are bound to occur, but every effort has been made to eliminate them as far as humanly possible. Fradition has been carefully pointed out and should be treated as such.

This work has not been done necessarily with the view of tracing the kinnison family to some great and mighty ruler of Europe, however, the Kinnison Family does spring from the Frinces and Kings of Fowys, an ancient kingdom of Shropshire County, England. Our connection with the anglis h Landed Centry Family of Kynssten dates back several generations from the time of the American Havolutionary war. Some future researoner may want to trace the family back to its connections with the Kynaston Family of England, but not this re-searcher. This writer feels that these records should be kept from the time subsequent to the American Revolution in the name of pride and pride alone. father leve" and pride urges that these records he kept up. farrage one in adred joars from now one of our descendants might become one of the United States Presidents and then these records would be of great use and value to the Federal Government. Then also at a later date some one of the family might want to join the Did or ball, or one of the many other patriotic organizations and these records would be of use to thom.

The information here-in has teen obtained from public histories and genealogies, such as "The Register of the Farish of Stourton, ailtshire, England.", The Register of the Church of England, Kirkby Lonsdale, England.", "The New England Listorical and Concalogical Register", "The National Lyclopedia of American Biography", "History of Pocahuntas County, Asst Virginia", by Er. RISTORICAL INTRODUCTION

Shortly after Columbus discovered america in 1522 while attempting to find a new trade route to the hast Indias, Magellan of Spain made the first trip around the world in 1517. Sebastian Cabot made voyages to the North Atlantic Coast in 1597 and in 1517 he made an expedition to the Audson hay in an attempt to find a route to the East. Sir Francis Drake made the second voyage around the world in 1577. Balbon orossed the Ismus of Fanama in 1511 where he discovered the Pacific Ocean. Ponce De Leon and De Sots explored the Florida area in 1521 and 1536. De Soto having discovered the Mississippi Niver.

In the 1500's people began to flock coress the Atlantic Ocean to America from England, spain and France in search for faculous wealth and homes. The Spanish took possession of the Seat Indias, Mexico and Florida. The French took possession and settled in the New Orleans and Canadian Areas. The English, Dutch and Swades, etc., settled along the Atlantic Coast from Maine to Florida. Inc. East India Tea Company of London established Jamestown, Virginia in 1607 with 105 people. The Flimouth Flantation was founded in 1620 by the Filgrim Fathers who left England Locause of religious persecution and the Massachusetts Bay Colony was founded in 1650.

These colonies in the new world meant wealth and expansion for the Crowns of England, spain and France which in turn led to competition and the wars that followed. The French and Indian wars from 1753 to 1803 pushed the French across the St. Lawrence River and setablished our northern boundry. The thirteen English colonies along the Atlantic Coust then rebelled against King George III of England because of taxation without respresenatation and the winning of the Revolutionary war in 1781 with the surrender of Lord Cornwellis at Yorktown set them free and on September 3, 1783, Great Britain formally recognized the Independence of the United States of America. Soon a fterwards the Constitution was formed with George Washington as the first United States President in 1789. A depression followed sud during it people led by Daniel Boone moved westward into Kentucky. later Louis and Clark explored the middle west and the Astor Company reached the Pacific Coast wiers a colony was established. Then the United States purchased Louisana from France and acquired lexus and California from apain and herico. Florida was also pushased from bpain and gradually people pushed their way farther west and formed the territories that now have became our Western States. Espacially after the

Soon after the Spanish-American war in 1878, machines were introduced and the scientific age began which along with the corporation and quicker transportation built larger cities and it has had its tendenaces to make the world much more compact until at present one can go around the world in less than five days. A long depression and dry spell just after the stock carket crash ended in 1932 with the election of Franklin Delano Hoosevelt as the United States Fresident, who with his hew Deal developed the A.F.A., C.C.C. and Social Security, which saved America from complete revolution and destruction. His h. A. was ruled out by the Supreme Court. Prosident Roossvelt was our third prestest U. S. President by the vote of our fifty-one most prominent historisus. So served in office for four slautions; during world War II he died in office at warm Springs, deorgia, during the painting of his portrait in April 1965. He has since teen acclaimed one of the greatest world stateamen of mankind, having been the father of the United Nations for the purpose of world management which in turn will seep the nations of the earth at peace with one another. He is in the hearts of millions and millions of American citizens and I would but little wonder if someday the American people wished they had him back again in the units house as he was indeed a friend of the "forgotten man."

peak of our nationalization with most of the complexities of today done away with. By that time we will have passed quite a long ways into the hydrogen and Atomic Age with our probless pretty well understood. Fols will be the last age of human creation and also the height of invention will nave seen reached with all the sources of power revealed, and the control of nature harnussed, is will have reached more or less a "static age" again(such as that before the advent of the cave-man) with the causes of the black scourge of war destroyed and controlled. The two evils that is most dangerous to our successful nationalization by 1975 and test would cause our downfall to failure, are the inroads from Europa, (Traiters, etc) and political propaganda criminalism. The product of sur American "welting pet" by 175 will be more than likely a society of constitutional social democracy in our following in the flootsteps of the great humanitarian Franklia belano Roosavelt.

Now that we have a brief synoposis of the world history this era, let us go on and see what has been recorded concerning the Kinkison Faulty. Many members of the related families have had active parts in the settling of the Hew World. Our surlisst ancestors reached America with the Pilaria rathors and settled thru-out the New England States and from there have spread across the continent with the growth of the United Status of America and the Federal Covt. Our immediate family has been swept aerose the states from New hampabire to just Virginia, thence to hio, Actrusta, Ayoming, Colorado, California, acusas, collances, canas and to Hasaii, hooping abroast with the frontier movement. "Pioneers" by natural victue, the story of the records of our family was o interesting reading and add many thrills to those who in their imagination can carry themselves back to those stirring times which helped to shape the destiny of CUR HATTON, The UMLIND LTATES OF ARMHICA, which is one of the most powerful leaders of the U. W. for Global pance.

The following information about the Kynaston Cost of Arms was supplied by Surke's Landed Centry, 180 Float Street, London, England. The data was taken from Burke's

During the Foudal Age there were many Costs of Armor and Crests among the various brancoes of the Aynaston ramily in England, however, today, most of them has become extinct. The following described arms with the Motto, (pictured on the opposite page) was assigned to Sir Roger Kynaston by King Edward IV in 11,51, at which time no was also anighted. This honor was bestowed upon him for an especially brilliant exploit at the Sattle of Blore Seath, September 22, 1159, during the war of the moses between the houses of York and lanouster. (During tala war the Yorkists wore a white rose as a badge and the laneasterians a red rose for their badge). This Coat of Armor has been handed down thru the ages under the anglish Laws of interitance and was exemplified to Reverent dalter Sharles adward Caons, incumbent of St. John's Buddersfield, York County, on assuming the name of Kynaston by Royal License in 1353. It is at present (1956) in the hands of Lt. Colonel John Roger Aynaston of Mardwick Hall. Ellosmero, parapsulre Sounty, angland, his descendant. Pho-Arms is as follows:

Lynaston (hardwick Hall, Ellesmare, County salep): Lrmino, a chevron gules, and for distinction a centon of the last. Mantling gules and argent. Crest: Upon a wreath of all colors, in front of a sun in splendor, a deater arm embowed in armor, holding in the hand a sword all proper. the arm charged above the allow for distinction, with a cross crosslet gules. kottos God is a sun and a sword to us. (Deus est noble sol et ensis.) The origin of the Coat of Armor is thus narrated: Lir Hoger Kynaston was a Yorkist and as a soldisr was reckoned one of the most able and illustrious heres of his time. He was present, mounted on his white charger, (ur of garder gayn) at the Lattle of bloar Heath, near Brayton, Jalop County, on September 22, 11,59, during the war of the doses, and was under the command of the Earl of salisbury. At this lattle, Lord Audb y, the Lancasterian leader, fell, according to the family tradition, by the hand of Sir Roger Kynasion. Two years after the Battle, when the Barl of March assended the English throne under the title of Edward IV of the douse of York, he not only knighted the squire of Hordley, according to his service, but also assigned to him the confiscated arms of the fallen Audley as an conorary addition to his own, which were borne in the first quarter of the Aynaston Billeld.

HISTORY OF TUR RIEBISON FAMILY

John meniston, the immigrant ancestor of the Klanison Family and foundar of the line in North America, came to the Massachusetts bay Colony from Bristol, Gloucester County, England, during the times of the religious strike of the dliver Gronwell Insurrection approximately three hundred years ato. He was on the list of those that came to Portswouth, New Mampanire after 1556 and was norn about 1635 in Old England. He was somehow descended from the heglish Landed dentry Family of Almaston, thus the story of the history of the American Kinnison Family goes back into English distory about a thousand years to the days of Unights and Chivilry during the Foldal Age, to the times of Allian the Conqueror and to Europshire County, which was the Ancient kingdom of Fosys, (Today tale county is also known as sales). It is here that we find the beginning of our ansestry, thus our name is of ancient agish and amplish in origin, (hrythomic deltie welsh, the true Eriton), and the first of the line was Bleddyn ap Cynfyn, an ancient king of fewys. This family have was originally the place hade of a small village in Jaropanire County, angland, the place being known as Tregunvarth; "anglicu" - hynvarth town, which was usually written and apoken of as "Aynaston", hence the teginning of our family surname during the latter part of the tenth contury. This place was still in existence in 1956 and is 72 miles southeast of Oswestry in County, Salop.

Down thru the past ten centuries as the family branchsa moved about in england and finally reached Morth America, the name has been changed in many instances thru errors in recording births, marriages and other papers and today the various branches of the family in the United States of Amorica spell the name agnaston, Monegon, hemison, Kennuson, Kynaston, Kinniston, kinnison, Kinistins, etc., They all are the Lorth smerican form of the original Ayasaton." fact it is said that after about a thousand years from its beginning, that there are twenty-two different ways of spallings of the name and that they have taken residence in countries all over the earth. Bardsley's Dictionary of English and welst names states that all of these various spollings are variants of the English Landed Centry lamily of "EYEASTLE." In the gradual corruption of the mame, the suffix "ston" has been changes frequently to "hou". The following is an example of how this has been done; - 1592-Buried - Francis Monnyatone at bt. elohael, Cornhill, buc. 1598 - william Kynnastone was an upholder. 1001 - Marraret Ronnaston married harmaduke Dollaan at London. 1010 - Duried anne Byrtle of Syrtles, daughter of hoger kynaston of Lightwick County salop. 1910 - Baptized, Thomas, son of Thomas Eynaston, St. leters, Corn. 111. 1526 - William and Charles Aynasion were "Prips-dressers", at 94 Mill St., Liraingham. Richard de Kynaston of County Rotts, Henry III. Edward I - Enight.

 The Villago of Tre-gynvarth from which the name "Aynaston" was derived by the descendants of Bleddyn Ap Cynfyn, was also known as Cynefero's hatute, which is a compound of Old hamilish "cyne", meaning royal and "foro" meaning mind and spirit and thus with the "ston" which means estate, the whole of the mame means "royal minded and spirited estate."

The third son of Griffith was bir hoper Kymaston, Knight, who died in 1517 and another brother was John.

Cotting back again now to the ancient history of the kinnison Family in England, the first person centioned in Burks's Landed Gentry, 1952 edition, is Blyddyn Ap Cynfyn, King of Fowys by inheritance and North and South hales by Usurpation. He was given lands and was placed on the throne by Hing Harold II of angland in 1003, after Harold had defeated his Welsh enery Gruffyd. Gruffyd's own men baheaded him, ones harold caused nim to fles. blydyn was Gruffyds naifbrother, both being descendents of Cunedda, one of wales first powerful Brythonic Kings. The historians write that Llyddyn Ap Cynfyn was the one Welsh Prince of the 11th Century that showed any real capacity for governoring on the grand scale. he was one of the law givers and made extensive changes in the laws of howel the relatoing to Veredotia. he seems to have been beloved to his countryran because after his assassination by the eniof of Ystrad Tywi, they referred to him as the man who supported the whole Kingdom of the Britons and that he was the mildest and most merciful of the Kings and one who would injure no one unless offended and when offended it was a against his will that he then avenge the offence. He was northe to his relatives and was a defender of orphans, the helpless and widows. He was the supporter of the wise, the honor and glory of the charones - - Generous to all, terriole in war and amiable in peace. He was a great genealogist and he and his bards made dilirent searches after the Arms, Ensigne, and pedigrees of his ancestors, the notility and Kings of Fosys. They found alany parch ents and records and later digested them into books. The above Kynaston Live of Burke's Landed Gentry is no doubt the "main stem" of the Minnison Family in Angland, and it continues to the present time with John Reger Mynaston, born August 26, 19th, at Hardwick Hall at present. In 1863 the Kynastons went extinct and to the family make was taken over by the Owens. PRESIDENT DEIGHT D. RISHNIO.BR

Tou can't explain free government in any other terms than religious. The Founding Fathers had to refer to the Creator in order to make their revolutionary experiment make sense; it was because "all men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalianable rights" that men could dare to be free. They wrote their religious faith into our founding documents, stamped their trust in God on the faces of their coins and currency and put it boldly at the base of our institutions. And when they drew up their bold bill of Rights, where did they put Freedom of worship? First, in the corner stone position. That was no accident.

in godliness is a people strong enough to overcome tyranny and make themselves and others free. Today, it is ours to prove that our own faith, perpetually renewed, is equal to the challenge of today's tyrants.

TALD OF THE BRAVE

Thus we see that the family originated in County Shropshire, england, with its earliest immigrants coming to the Massachusetts Hay Colony in New England during the period of the great immigration between 1600 and 1650, which was during the times of the Oliver Cromwell Insurrection. Between thirty and fourty thousand immigrants, mostly all Furitans, came to North America during this period. Little was known about the navigation of the Atlantic queen at that early date and so most all of the ships from angland followed the course set by the Mayflower in 1020, and as more and more astilers arrived in the New world toey naturally pushed further inland to the North and South from the Massachusetes Bay Colony. At that time the Separatiats, (todays Compregational Church) were the most influencial and practloally all of the new errivals became members of that church, since they were in a new land and far away from the loathed paragoutions in Old Angland of the Catholic Church, that they had endured, in England.

John Keniston, founder of the line in America, came to Massachusetts from Bristol, Gloudester County, angland, (Boston Transcript, April 20, 1940.) about 1645. From which of the aforegoing Kynaston Familias in England he was descended is not known at present. He settled firstly at Fortsmouth, Her Hampshire, being on the list of those that came there Later he resided at Dover and after that at Greenland, New Hampshire, where he died. His wife was Agnes Magoon. At about the same time that John came to the ... w world, several others of the family lamigrated also from England, as there was an Allan Keniston that settled at Salam, Mass., in 1636 and died there in 1846. His will was administered by his wife, Dorothy; he left bequests to several friends so apparently ne had no children. There was also ancher Allen Keniston that was a planter, that lived at Pashbyhoys, Wirginia in 1624. He came from England on the ship "Hargaret and John." In hovember 1639, he was living at "warwicke Squaako" and stated that he had been there i.r 17 years. There were also several kinniston and kinnison Families that in Southwestern Pennsylvania in 1663. Among them were idward and Cabriel who were transported by Pat Williams. Deveral Kinnison Families resided in Fayette County, Pennsylvania in 1570. By the time of the first b. b. Census, there were on the Minnison ancestors settled in the towns known as Newbury and Amesbury, Massachusetts, that are situated on the Merrimac River, and also the region just north across the state line in New Maspahire. They came to America seeking not only freedom religious persecution, freedom to speak and think as they pleased, with freedom of the press, but also to get a decent living and to enjoy some of the luxious things in life, and they also were seeking from their new homes in America, freedom from Captolist and other types of tyrants, such as the Jamestowa Tea Company.

by the time of the American Mevolutionary war the family had multiplied wonderfully and there were many branches of the Kinnison and Kennison Family, David's parents residing at lebanon, Maine, at that time. There were 189 enlistments of the Kinnison Family, with all its various spellings, in the American Mevolutionary war. This includes about a dozen enlistments in the latter French and Indians wars. As many of them re-enlisted, this does not indicate the number of this name in those wars, but it can be taken as representing approximately the number of enlistments up to the close of the Nevolutionary war. The contention that there were Kinnisons in all of Americas wars is well founded. (See appendix).

wiss blizaleth hoyt of Chelsa, Mass, states the following concerning an old family bible that was brought over from England by the early partlett and Einnison pioneers of the Amerbury, region:- "This bible came to my father's mother, who was Sally Kennison, the daughter of Dolly and Moses Kennluon. Dolly hartlet, my great grandmother, was the slater of Joseph Bartlett, who lived in my father's boyhood at Bartlett Corners, about half-way between Amesbury Ferry and the Will on the Marriage River. Joseph lived exactly on the corner and bolly, my fathers grandmother, lived three houses beyond. They ware descendents from the bartletts who originally settled in 1035, at Bartlett's Cove, near the Chain Bridge. The hible was brought over by the original settlers. My rather, hr. ac. Hoyt, son of Asorn Hoyt and Jully Rennison was torn in Amesbury, June 14. 1603." This bible was owned in 1909 by a Mr. .. illiam Bartlett of Lowell, Mass. Richard Bartlett who was one of the founding fathers of the Eastlett Family in Am. boug t it in Ing. in 1612, and later came to the new world with a group that was led by the Reverent Thomas Parker. Among the group were several Kinnisons also. They were all from County willtshire and sailed from Eng. on "Mary and John" February 28, 1633, and settled in the amesbury Districk on the Marrianc Hiver, in Mass. Phis Bible which was bought by Richard Earthoft in England was used ror inspiration and courage on the voyage across the A tlantic Ocean, and later at Amesbury, Hichard, recorded all of the births of his onliden in it. It is known as the brosches bible and is black is tterd, quarto post, very much trimed dean. Christopher (2) Keniston John 1) was probably the grandfather of David Kinnison, last survivor of the boston for Party. Christopher had four sons with war records: 2 buch: - alexandor who at the age of 18 was in King Phillips war and King williams's war, 1676; Mitt, or Christopher, Jr., who with his brothers John and Alexander again, were in the Franch purp. He also had a son Samuel with a war Accord who was in all probability the father of David Minnison, the subject of this sastch.

The details of the search among the records which outablishes this probability must necessarily be omitted; but this conclusion was arrived at by elimination of the others who might have been his parent. This must serve our purposes as we find no birth or captismal record relating to mavid Kinnison.

DAVID Albertson

The most famed colonial ancestor of william Menry Ainnison of Angue, Aebraska, was David (h) Kinnison, the last surviver of the famous Ecken Tea Party, who is ensurined in Lincoln Park, Chicago, Illineis. During his lifetime at Angus, A. A. Kinnison, talked many times about his family back

This some is erected by the sons of the hevolution, the Sons of the American devolution."

David (h) Ainnison, (samuel 3, thristopher 2, John 1) is then the graphic representation of the ancestry of the subject skatched.

David had a son in the hevolutionary Dar from tebanon, Maine, as the records show:— "Remnison, David; meturn of recruits sent by Massachusetts as portion of her quota of Continental Army subsequent to 1701, who were reported unfit for duty; 2nd Mass. Hegt., 17 years of age, status h foat, 9 incres. Angaged for the town of lebanon; term three years; reported undersize." (Mass. 501. and Sail. Hev., Vol. 9, page 124). This was undoubtedly David (5) Kinnison, son of David (h) who collisted mearly two years after his father in the same healment.

In response to an inquiry, the Nev. Nar Section, Departmenter interior, Eureau of Fensions, dated Wasning, D. C., January 11, 1923, sent the following:-

Wery Respectfully yours,

(SIGNAD) - Washington Gardner, Commissioner.

It may be stated here that the above is the only authentic record found of his services in the Revolutionary har pertaining to the David Rinnison who is turied in Lincoln Fark, Chicago. We have other authentic records and proofs however pertaining to his later military services which will new be considered. (Several of his name were in nev. War.
There are about 20 references to havid Rinnisons in how Hampahire Regiments previous to March 1780; Some of these records may refer to the David who is buried in Lincoln Park Chicago, Ill.; the question is only one of indentity which can not be determined from the accessible public ed records.)

has given a detailed account of the life of David Kinnison in the account of the Fort Dearborn Massacre, August 1812, in which Minnison had part. On page 255-7 he quotes the sources of his information which are authentic. He brings out the fact that Minnison was in Fort Dearborn as early as May 180h, as shown by Mintie's account books and the informac is plain that he was than a soldier in the regular army of the United Stated Infantry there at that time. On page 52h - Muster Holl of a Company on Infantry under the commanded by Colonel Mathan Heald in the Regiment of Infantry commanded by Colonel Jacob Mingsbury from the 20th of April when last Mustered to May 31, 1812. The Fort Dearborn Hassacre occurred, as your mind remonbers. 3 months later and as kinnison was then still at Fort Dearborn (als enlistment was to March lith following this event) it is plain that he was into it. Accordingly on pp 434, 345, qualie states as an historical fact that David Einnison was one of the 27 survivors, and further that he was one of the 18 of these survivors who returned to private Mire. It is inferred from the text that his enlistment terminated wi th the massuore and he states: "The supposition that he was a participant in the masseors rests upon inference for his name is nowhere supressly Lentioned in connection with the event. Frasimatly he was one of the shall number of time servivors who returned from captivity, of whom nothing definite, of record is known." We are indebied to Mr. Qualic for those interesting facts which he has proven without quest-ion as to David Kinnison's further military service. He never questions his indentity, nor has he considered the possibility of another David kinnison in connection with these records. He states on page 1,32:- "David Minuteon who was buried at chicago, Illinois with great civic peop ho years later evidentally survived the massacre." having then proven these facts he states on page 216, "In his old age dismissen told of further service in the der of 1812, but it is evident that his memory had become confused upon the subject." very evident that aquaire had not consulted the Fenai a Bureau. as we have found that he drew a pension for disability incurred in the sar of 1812, in these battles between begruary 2, 1813 and May 1814. This is cortainly a vindication of Dave Kinnison's memory as to the War of 1812."

The Military Record, which is proven by records, of Lavid

Sir: - As several persons have been to see us to know how I am going to vote, I wish to get from you that use of Democrat to tell the people what conclusion I have come to in the present condition of my country, as I shall probably never have another opportunity of voting. The signatures of David Kinnison and Fernando Jones are undoubtedly gonuing, the other names are in the same band, apparently as the writing of the document.

Lossing, in his rield book of the Revolutionary har pub-lished in 1850, (Vol. 1, page 1:00) was the first author who wrote an account of David Kinnison's participation in the har. he discovered him thru his b ther to the Chicago Demograt, already quoted. he prolished his portrait and autograph signature: he (Lossing) has made some Statements that can not be proven of record and as this account is the basis of much that has been written of him, it follows that much is of doubtful validity. Curry, in Chicago and its history and Builders (Vol. 1, page 373) has the most complete account of his private life and funeral. qualfe mus by far the most accurate record of his military record. From these and many other sources is found what follows: - - After his service in the hov, mar he lived for 8 years at Lanville, ventont and farmed as defore. It has been definitely established from atabakants from the Kanistons in Vermont that some of his children remained in Vt. and it is anown that some live times now (1723) what claim David Kinnison as their ancestor. He then wont to Wells, Mains, where he lived until he came to what is now Chicago in 1803 or 1806 whore he enlisted in the army again. After his service in the war of 1812 he settled in hew York and in the ensuing years of peace but with physical injuries far more numerous and serious than in all his years of warfare; a tree fell on alm and fractured his skull and collar tone and two ribs; a horse kloked him and left a deep scar on mis forehoud will he carried for the rest of als life; at a military review a cammon was discharged and broke his legs.

In 1845 he came back to Chicago, 111., with the family of ailliam Mack and lived with them at Des Flaines and Ladison breats. The statement is made that up to this time he had been married four (4) times and was the father of tachty-tac children, and in view of the fact that we know he had a son born in 1765 when he was 27, and that he had five small children including "Polly aged 5" in 1820 when according to the grave record he was Mr. the statuent Is not improbable. In 1845 he knew nothing of any of his children or of his facilty in Maine. He at first supported himself at mapped labor doing odd jobs which with the belp of his pension of 18.00 per month enabled him to exist. In his prime he was a very powerful man, 5 feet 10 inches tall andvery muscular; it was said by witnesses that at the age of 102 he could lift a barrell of rum into a wagon with ease; it may be that he lightened the load first by taking a drink of the rum. Mr. Reed of the Foard of Trade of Chicago atates that at the age of 103 he walked from watertown to macket Barbor, hew York in one day; Fr. Reed claimed that his grapt-aunt was Finnison's fourth wife.

His appearance in his old ago is thus described: "Tall and erect and with white hair that stood up like that of And-rew Jackson, though it curled slightly, with keen eye and composed manner, he was one to athrest attention." "In was consulted often as an authority on matters beyond the knowledge of most living men, and numberous were his corrections and additions to the history of the hevelutionary war."

Becoming incapacitated from manual labor, in 10,0 he entered a Chicage Meseum as one of the curios; in his card to the public appropriate this step he explained that the smallness of his persion obliged him to take this step from necessity in order to provide himself with the macessary conforts of life. In was in 18,8 the nominal manager of the Mooney museum and finding himself in straitened circumstances, on his 112th birthday gave a "denetion party" there at which his friends gave him small sums for his conforts of life. Although it burt his sollier's pride to accept denetion he was always reas etcd. The know that Fernando Jones was one of the friends precent on this occasion as has been shown.

Charles (5) Einnison (David h, manuel 3, Christopher 2, John 1), was born about 1750 in New ingland and died about 1828 in Ohio. He was one of the first white settlers to sross the Alleghany Mountains and settle in the little levels costion of Focabuntas County, west Virginia, in 1765 and start what is now the town on hillsbord, (west Virginia Tour and Reader's Guide Book). He and his brother Jacob A. had proviously been in the Cumberland District and also were at Capon Springs near Anchester in predericks county, Va. They had crossed the abuntains on an exploring expedition looking for a place in which to build new homes, whence they came upon Colonel John McNeal in what is now the fittle levels section of focuto the wilderness from Cumberland because he was afraid that he had killed a san there in a souffle, and that he had wondered around in the mountains until ne cant to the beautiful valley of the Little Levels, where he built his cabin in about 1764, thinking that he was a fugitive from justice. Charles Kinnison was an early day Mothodist and was on the membership list of the white Fold Methodist-Episocpal Church of Millaboro in 1789. In fact he was one of the first cambers of this onurch which was built by Colonel Mc Heal and dedicated to the Creator of the Universe. The lands he sattled were a few miles west and north of Hillsboro, near the town of Lobelia; part of the 2,000 acres of land he had was named "Kinnison Mountain" in his honor. This mountain still bears this name today and is a part of the Yew Hange that is about sleven miles west of Marlington, W. Va. kinnison Mountain is bordared on the East by Cranmberry Gludes. There are several other places named after him also, among them is another Kinnison Mountain which is three miles southwest of Lobelia, near the Posahuntas Jount, Line. This writer has heard the older scatters of the family at angus, hebrasas, talk about the family history at re-unions, and they stated, (which is a verification of the statement of therles a. Sinnison of Hillsboro, h. Va.) that we are descendents from David Kinnison, last survivor of the Boston Tea Party; that being so, David, would have had to have had Christian in about 1/50. Refore Charles and Jacob settled at Hillsboro, a. Va., they, had been at Capon Springs and Cumberland and there were Minnisons in that region aso, however, I have never teen able to find any documents or histories that would connect the families with those in that region. Since David of the Boston Tua Party had four wives and twenty-two children, Charles could have been, no coubt one of them.

The children of Charls and Martha (Day) Kinnison are as follows, (all born in the Hillsboro District of Greenbrian County, Virginia):-

I - David (6) was born June 7, 1/67 ad died bept. 30, 1835. He was married on January 24, 1/66, to Susanna Rughes, born April 17, 1767 and died November 6, 1851. This marriaged was performed by keverent John Andrews. They lived at Aill Foint, W. Va., which is about a mile east of Hillsboro. Their children are as follows, (they went west except for Jacob and there is little information about their marriages or families):-

1. Esther (7) born July 1, 1771. 2. Charles (7) born May 6, 1787.

3. Elizabeth (7) born april 20, 1793, married William Molleal.

William Henry (8) Kinnison (David Clayborn 7, Ames 5, Charles 5, David 4, Samuel 3, Christopher 2, John 1), was born in Pikes County, Ohio, on July 6, 1853, near the town of Beaver, and died January 6, 1933, at Angus, Nuckells County, Nabraska, at his home of ever a half a century, just East of town. He was the son of David and Catharine (Dykes) Kinnison, of Beaver, Pikes County, Chio. His parents were both born in Greenbriar County, Virginia, and later migrated: to Chio, when that new state was being settled between 1825 and 1850. They were both Campbellitss, (that church was later whanged to be named the Christian Church).

A faily tradition is that the name was "Kenniston" tefore the Boston Tea Party and that when David (4) throw the Tea into the Boston Harbor at Griffin's wharf, on December 16, 1773, he threw the "t" out of his name. Hence any people named "Kenison, Kennison, Kinnison, etc.," all without the "t", are related to us, however distantly, but those with the extra letter are pre-Am. Hev. war relatives, if any at all;
hence the different family sur-names in this "new civilization"
mentioned in Abraham Lincoln's Gettyburg Address during the Civil War.

The early years of the life of the subject of this sketch were in Fikes County, Chio, where he was reared to young manhood, attending the public schools in that community. After he finishing his schooling, he farmed with his family and when he was abouteight years of age the Civil war broke out, (between the North and the South over slavery). Of course, he was to young to have enlisted in the Union Army, however, four of his older brothers enlisted, two of them being killed.

After the hostilities of the Civil War had ceased, henry,

After the hostilities of the Civil War had ceased, henry, then at the age of about 14 or 15, moved to fincoln, logan County, Illinois, where he was employed as a cow-puncher by

Mr. Wily.

After a short time in Illinois, and due to the great expansion westward and the growth of the United States of America, Mr. Wiley decided to go west and acquire a larger ranch in hebraska, as it was being settled at that the. Henry, thinking that perhaps he might be able to get a home-stead of his own, someday, in these new frontiers, went along with him, and continued in his employment.

They made the trip in 1876 and at that time the railways were just beginning to expand mestward across the kissouri River from St. Joseph, Omaha, Bellview, etc., Hebraska, and so they rode on one of the old early day trains. Fart of the trip was on the Old Hannibal and St. Joseph Railway that crossed Missouri to the Missouri hiver. In those days Edgar, Clay County, Nebraska, was the end of the line, and after arriving there on the Old St. Joseph and Grand Island dallroad, Mr. Wiley obtained his large ranch, which was located a short distance West and South of town. Henry continued in his employment for about two years. At about this time heard three other of his adventurous free-booter pals, hitched up a team of horses to their spring wagon and were off for a vacation and land exploring expedition to Colorado to see the mountains and the "Roaring Gold Camps". It took them about eleven days of travel to make the trip to Denver from Edgar. Henry's best pal in this group was webb Todd, whom he had known in Illinois, and after enjoying the mountain scenery and being wise enough. to read between the lines, they decided that the Colorado Gold Rush was mostly a "hoax" of some racketeers out of Kansas City and soon returned to Edgar, as Colorado was toodry and too much of a desert for farming at that time.

When they returned to Nebraska, Nuckolls County was being formed and was being settled quite quickly with small trading posts being established here and there. Infact Nuckolls County was organized and held its first election June 27, in the year 1871 and was named after Stephen F. Nuckolis, who was one of the early day Nebraska and Myoling pioneers during the territorial and early statehood days of the two states. lie was the man that laid out and started the town of "Nebraska City", in Otoe County. He was in the Banking business there and was on the school board and also operated several overland oxen freight out-fits west to Denver, Colorado. He served in the Nebr. State Legislature and Ruckolls County was numed after him because he had something to do with the passage of the bill that started the organization of the County. He later moved to Cheyenne, Wyoming, where he became a very prominent mitigen operating a general merchandise store for many years. He also served in the Wyoming Legislature as a Democrat and was the very first delegate from territorial wyming to the U.S. Congress. He finally retired and moved to Salt Lake City where he died in 1879.

It was at this time that Heary and Todd both acquired large tracts of land for themselves near Angus. Also at this time, Henry was attracted by and fell in love with a beautiful dark-eyed girl named Hannah Matilda Kinc annon, and it wasn't long afterward that they were married and settled down to raising a family on their ranch and farm East of Angus. They were married on December 25, 1852, Christmas Day, at the home of the brides parents, the old J. G. Kincannon place, just across the Little Blue diver south of town, and the farm that they took and where they lived most the rest of their lives, raising beeir family of four girls and eight boys, was located approximately a half mile north and one mile east of Angus.

The lives of those early day pioneers was certainly rough, hard and woolly. Henry and the other piencers used to tell stories about their fighting the Indians along the Little Blue diver, nearby the farm. They never thought of going out into their fields to plow, etc., without taking a rifle with them for protection against the Indians. Many of the house-woren at first took their clothes down to the river to wash it on the rocks along the river banks; and many families lived for months in Dug-outs and caves along the river, until lumber could be prepared to build now homes. Grass-sodd was used also for getting protection from the elements, and many of that type of house was used for several years. Henry not only was a large souls farmer, but he also fed and fattened many cattle which he shipped to St. Joseph for sale.

Henry also had a great interest in the welfare of the citizens of the Angus Community and served them very well being a active member of the old Independent Farty and repulists Party also. In his later years he was active with the Democrats, especially during the turbulent times of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. He attended many politica rallies and also conventions as a delegate from Sherman Precinct. no also owned and operated the W. H. Kinnison and Lon General Merchandise Store, at Angus, and his eldest son william averent assisted him with this enterprise. In his later days he was the President of the Bank of Angus, was Precinct Assessor and was a large stock-holder in the kuckolls Jounty Telephone Co. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America and also a cenber of the Odd Fellows Lodge, and attended the United Brothren Church of Angus.

An interesting item about the old W. H. Kinnison place, just east of Angus, is that the Old Oregon Trail used to cross it and several years before Henry and the other pioneers of Nuckolls County took this land for farming, several hundreds of thousands of Mormans and Oregon and Jashington picacors crossed it on their way to the Salt lake Valley and the great Northwest, 1830 to 1855. In one of the cornfields of the farm there occurred an Indian Massaure during the early days, The ploneers going west were attacked by the Indians and as was the custom, they formed their wagons in a circle in order to make a fortress for self protection and from which to fight off the Indians. It appears that few of the pionoers escaped alive or with very much of their tolongings as for many many yours afterwards as the Ainnison boys plowed this particular floid each year they turned up Indian Arrow-hoads, rings and clamps, and old parts of harnesses and waters, and other metal fragments that were the remains of the burned wagons and equipment from this Massacro.

Down too Little Blue River a short distance from angus is "The harrows", which is a very narrow place in the river bottom and it was here that the Indians used to trap, in the early days, muny of the stage-coaches on the way West. This place was so narrow and long that the drivers couldn't turn around in it, so as to go back to the fort for protection.

It was near here that the Oak Grove Massers occurred in about 1867.

Another interesting thing about the farm is when the big red barn burned to the ground. This occurred during the summer of 1906 and how the fire got started no one ever knew. Floyd (Mike) Michael, who was Henry's naphew, was awakened at about two o'clock in the morning by the terrific bright light from the blaze that shown across the fields and into his bedroom window that was about a mile south. He immediately jumped out of bed and woke his parents, Phillip and Sarah Michael and then ran across the fields to the Kinnison Farm house where he aroused them. They all got up and immediately began totake all of their furniture out of the house, as the West side of the place was terribly scorehed from the heat, however, the house did not burn down. They lost about fifteen head of fine horses in this fire, but, they and the barn was soon replaced.

ARCUS, Nuckolls County, Nebraska, is located eight miles northeast from Welson, the County Seat and was platted and incorporated by the Lincoln Land Company in May 1886, and was named as a Railroad Station after Mr. J. E. Angus, who was an official of the Chicago, Furlington and auincy Railroad that had its depot on the East bank of the Little Blue River, and which was not so awfully far from the junction of the Ox Bow Creak and the Little Blue River; it was also just a little ways south of the site where they dug up the largest prehist -oric mammoth ever discovered, (this skeleton is in the Natural History Museum at Denver, Colo).

Frior to the coming of the C. E. M. H. H. (which was previously the Mebraska and Colorado Milroad), and back in the days of the Oregon Trail, Pony Express and the stage each lines, and tefore Angus was started, the nearest post-woifice and trading post that served the district was OxBow, which was directly across the Little Blue River southwest from present day Angus. Also up the river a short distance from present day Angus, was the old Blue Bluff Mill, which was another sort of trading post. This old mill was started in about 1873 and in 1876 it was rented by Mr. J.A. Roberts and Mr. Aikens. Later in 1982 Mr. Roberts bought an interest in it and continued to operate it for several years. The mill dam had a sevenn(7) foot fall and it ground both wheat and corn and there was also a stone quarry in connection with it.

The mail distributing point in those days was Edgur (founded with the coming of the St. Soseph and Grand Island R.R. in 1872), and many of the Angus District reople got their mail directly from there, however, there was also a stage coach line operated by a Mr. adgigton, that carried both mail and passengers from Edgar to Superior, going down thru Ox Bow. This state-coach driver would drvie down one day to Superior and return to Lidgar the next day.

The name Angus no doubb originated in very very undient Fritish and Scottish history, as Aengus (Fros) was in Cailic (Irish) Mythology, a God, or spirit of love, youth and beaty.

Risses have been called "birds of Aengus." In Scotland there is an county named "Angus" which was named after an invading family from Denmark about five centuries ago. nere also originated the Angus-Aberdeen cow, that was first brought across the Atlantic Ocean in 1873.

Long before British History began "Angus" was originally the name of a famous Trojan Hero in the Fattle of Troy, and that is the main reason that the name has lived a clong. Angus was a very common name used in ancient Italy during the Renaissance and was originally spelled "Aeneas". From Italy the name spread to Europe, thence to Scotland and England, thru the invading family from Denmark. Many families in Scotland still use the name spelling it "Aonghus" and the Glengarry Clan still spell it as originally started from the Battle of Troy, - "Aeneas." (The above from the Oxford Dictionary of English Christian Names", written by Withycombe).

Before the turn of the Century and back in "The horse and buggy" days, Angus was a very busy and flourishing town. There were four trains a day that passed thru the town, and two grain elevators, two grocery and general merchandise stores, one hardware store, one hotel, a stock yard, a blacksmith shop, a barter shop, a millinery shop, a bank, a lumber yard, a livery barn, an automobile factory that made Fuller Autos, a Junior High School, a meat Market, a coment factory, two churches and a telephone switchboard office, which was located in the hotel. Then in the early 1900's started the beginning of our modernization with its atroamlined ways of today. which introduced into the United Status of American applied paychology, (conditioned reflex??), the automobile, good fast paved high-ways, bus lines and fasters and more convenient froight by truck lims, motion pictures, chain store corporations, machines for factories with better electrical tools for mass production, and along with those changes and a general financial panic and depression beginning about 1910, many Nebraska banks went into bankruptcy and Angus with many other communitios began to lose its business and population and has dwindled down until today, (1956) it is a more hamlet with only a few houses left that the fourth generation dwells in, one grocery store and post-office, a garage, and two churches where the citizens of the community still practice their Democratic and Constitutional Rights to Worship God in their own way.

When the severest of the bank-runs started at Angus, William henry was one of the Presidents of the Bank of Angus, and one of his associates skipped out on him and wont to California, thus leaving him to settle the affairs of the bank alone, and henry being a good eltizer and a Christian with a continued good faith in his community and in order to keep his good name and reputation, paid off all of the banks depositors with funds from part of his own personal account, which later forced him to sell part of his large land holdings. This was indeed an act of Christian Humanitarianism, and Henry should be held in the highest of regards for this good deed and his valor.

Another interesting Item about Angus is that it was here that they unsarthed one of the hirgest pre-historic Mammoths ever found. Mrs. Noss Frooks found it one day aftor a very heavy rain and flood. The Little Blue River in its flooded condition had washed away a part of the river bank thus exposing one of the animals huge tusks and one day when the Brook's were walking along the river, he found it and later they got into touch with the people of the hasting buseum and sure enough it was a large nammoth of the Pleistocene Age, which was 25,000 years ago. There was a Folsom Age Arrow-head in one of its shoulders, so apparently it had been killed or injured by the stone age men of that area. Hast ings Mussum people un-sarthed the skeleton, which was a very slow and tedious job, it was so large that kebraska didn't have a building heres enough to house it and so they sent it to Denver, Colorado, and it is now displayed there in the basement of the Museum of Natural History in the City Park.

There is not very much known about the family of Henry in Unio, however, one brother Harrison Jenkins Kinnison settled in Fort Collins, Colorado and one sister Recocca lived in Greenriver, ayoming, for awhile. The Charles S. Kinnison of Detroit, Michigan, who is a verse writer, might be his 2nd or 3rd cousin, also his brother Judge James Edgar Kinnison of Jackson, Shio. Sherman Kinnison, the druggist of St. Joseph, Mo. was a cousin to him and probably the C. R. Kinnison, veteranian, of Chillicothe, Missouri, was also. Other distant counsins might be: - Ray Kinnison, Assistant United States District Attourney, of Los Engeles, California. Colonel menry lee Kinnison, of the U.S. Army, whose grand-son he my Lee III lives at Albequerque, new Mexico, may have meen a cousin. H. L.'s III father was killed during world War II in Burma. There are Kinnison Families all over the United States and all over the world that are probably distantly related.

Pioneer life in those days was pretty rugged living as at that time the women had to do the family wash on the rocks along the banks of the river; many families lived in dug-outs, others in grass-sodd throw-up houses, and the men carried rif-les in the fields for protections against Indian attacks. The grass-hoppers are some of their first crops and the people from the fast sent them food and clothing to save them from perishing in the wilderness.

On December 25, (Christmas Day) 1882, Hannah was united in holy matrimony to William Henry Kinnison and if I remember correctly, I believe that this coremony was performed at the home of the brides's parents on the old James Clabourne Kinncannon Farm just south of Angus. Soon afterwards the newly wedded couple moved to their farm just about a one mile east of Angus, where they built their new house and reared a family of twelve children - eight sons and four daughters. In her old age and after the death of her husband Henry, Hannah moved into the town d' Angus and retired to the Kinnison town estate, where she was a very worthy member of the community, spending her last years happily with her sister and brotherin-law William and Harriet Felton, (Aunt Hattie and Uncle bill). She was also visited quite frequently by her children, whom had scattered all over the Western States, and this added to her pleasure.

James Clabourn Mineannon was the son of William and Lucy Mineannon that are in the U. J. Jensus Report for Richland County, Wisconsin, District No. 20, taken in Aug. 1850. At that time he was aged 50 and she 47. He was born in Virginia CA 1800 and she in Tennessee ca. 1803. Unclebrank says he remembers his Uncle Calvin, Scott and Merion. in Misconsin.

what part of Virginia it was that william was born in, in about 1800, is not known for sure, however, since there was quite a large family of Aincannons residing in washington County on the holston hiver at that time, it is thought that perhaps he could have been a member of one of the families there. When william was a young man he migrated to hamilton County, Tenn. where he married here south became hostile, they migrated and the Spanish in the South became hostile, they migrated and the Spanish in the South became hostile, they migrated northward after they opened up the great northwest territory for settlent around the Great Lakes Region. They resided several years at alton, ill., where most of their family of tentoys was born, and in their old age they resided in Richland County, misconsin, where they died.

It is thought that perhaps the above william was a son or grandson of Andrew Kincumson, of Austington County, Virginia, who was born October 27, 1744. He early settled in the Holston Country of Virginia. He was a blacksmith and a gunsmith by trade and claimed to have made the first horse-shoe in Kentucky. in February 1777, he was acting as an armorer for the troops stationed at Long Island of the Holston River and that year ho was also appointed unsign and then a Lieut in machington County and stationed at the Stone will on Deer Greek. At the Latele of King's Mountain in North Carolina, during the Am. Rev. Car, on October 7, 1/80, he succeeded to the command of his Co. wen Captain Dysart was wounded and was chosen Captain in 1782. A fow years after the war he sattled on lom's Greek in burry County, k. Carolina, where he had a fine farm and an iron works. (Tom's Cross is just across the Vivginia State Line a short distance to the most from Washington Co. Va). He was married to Catharine McDonald and they raised a family of nine childron. He was tall and suscular, of great integrity and high Character. No died in November 1829, at the age of 85 years. (King's Mountain History by Draper). Which North Carolina Norwood Family the above Nathaniel belonged to is not known, however, at the time of the Am. Nev. War there were many Norwood familys thru-out Southern Virginia, and N and S Carolina. Many of them were in the Continental Line under washington in that war. In the histories of that state thera is much information about the Norwoods and some futra researcher may want to connect the above Nathanel with one of the families.

One of the most complete genealogical lines of the forwoods is given by John Bennett Boddie in his recent publication, "Virginia Mistorical Genealogies" published at Redwood City, Calif., in 1953. A future re-searcher may tant to refer to it as it gives the remilies that were in h. C. 1750 to 1800 among whom are several "nathanicls." One of the early horwood anostions from which many Morwoods in k a 5 Jarolina are descended is Colonel Honry NORWHD; he once to Virginia during the Cavaller digration period 1550-1660, on the ship "Virginia Morchant", Just arter King Charles I was beheaded as after the Cavaliers that he came to Va. with left London, the fled to dolland, thence to Va. on Virginia derenant, the sas treasurer of va.Colorey 1000-1577, and was aspointed by Charles II after the Restoration.

I have "dug-up" the names of individuals she lived long ago. They were honored in their generation and were the glory of their times. There be some of them that has left a name that might be praised and seme have lived who have no memorial, they have lived an though never born.

Some have sad reflections and hard lives and long to live in "songs of distant days." But way should a person care for fame on earth if he believes that when he dies he will assume a new role; and career in the new and brighter world?

We have had and now have in the Kinnlson Family persons from all walks of life, for example - Physicians, lawyers, service man, Pilgria rathers, preachers, railway workers, farmers, plarmistists, school teachers, oil refinery workers, engluers, bankers, merchants, photographers, stone-cutters, undertakers, politicians, green-house workers, ranchers, city dwellers, soda jerks, and most everything else from the wealthy to the low and humble, but no matter what your station in life, we are all cidizens, free and equal under the law and the American flag which represents the most sensible government ever established on earth since the beginning of recorded history, in that we all have one vote each and have the freedom of choice of occupation. As most of the older generation looks back over it all they realize that much has "gone with the wind." Or is just all in the "Family Bedlan", so as to speak, as in other families, and so as we descendents of willIAM HERRY KINKIDON live on today we can but little wonder what our tomorrow will bring in this atomic and hydregen ago, the last age of civilization.

One can readily see that the lives of the Filgrims was very simple and orude. The law of the home and almost of the land was the Bible and some rules were very strict especially in the quaker settlements in Pennsylvania. In those days the alignitest infraction of the rules sometimes disgraced a person for life. In these days of 1956 we would most generally simply laugh at such an idea as that, as we understand the complexities of life very much better because beginning in the early 1900's and up to the present there has been a great advancement in science and psychology. Life has become more complexed and complicated by the advancement of science, however, by the gradual passing of time the the hew of elimination will do away with some of the conflicting factors in living with things to come. - nowadays the "so-called scandal" is just that one of the many conflicting factors of our modern way of life has overpowered one of the others and actually there is no scandal to any of them.

We of the younger generations are taught that there is no right or wrong - what is right for one person would be wrong for another person, therefore, they are bound to be rel ative to each other.

lowever, don't so mislead, there is a right and wrong in the intelligence factor of the problem!! therefore one should always try to use what little intelligence we do have and weigh each and every problem of life from all angles before making a decision, in other words use a "little old fashioned American horse-sense!" In the modern atomic world, thinking clearly is certainly a form and shape of relativity and to the Everyday Laysan "Akinnisonianism."

As we runmage through the records of our forefathers, which contains papers, records of births, deaths and marriages, and other confusion which belonged to a people who lived during a period of different laws, and ammers, habits and living, we go stumbling over recullections of a people that remind us of the things that they have built and done for us, their descendants of today. They remind us of this generation of AMChis of Anrid War II and of this might nation and its foundations which after years has risen to be the wonder and admirition of our civilized world and this inturn impresses us of the rapidness of the improvements and developments of a land found surage wild by our forefathers in the 1500 a. we also see the great changos in the social life due to increased population, (portaps due to immigration) and this teaches as what sannor of people laid the foundation of Odn CourthY, in which many numbers of Einnison, Mincannon and others families had an active part.

The hope of mankind for global management and the end of "the black scourge of war" seems to be the Nations that are in the United Lations Organization that was started by Fresident Franklin Delano Roosevelt during Norld War II. Longlive mankinds greatest organization to keep the peace and longlive the memorial "think of me white clover" to the ANVET dead that died all ever the earth to form this U.N.
